Memorandum: Sensirion supply chain status considering the current military conflict in the Ukraine

Date: 25th February 2022

Dear Business Partners,

After diligent and extensive analysis of our supply chain regarding actual or soon to be expected disruptions caused by the current military conflict in the Ukraine, we are pleased to inform you that none of our products are negatively affected.

Our analysis has included all material and supplier dependencies as well as logistic routes. We will continue to monitor the situation closely and immediately inform you should there be any negative development or occurrence which could impact our supply chains.

Kind regards,

David Drennan
Director Supply Chain Management
