Subject: Update on TWN Earthquake

We want to provide you with an update regarding the Earthquake in the Taiwan region with respect to ISSI's Memory Products.

Luckily, everyone in our Taiwan Organization is safe. There was some minor damage to our warehouse and shipping area. We stopped all shipments on Wednesday (TWN Time) because of the Earthquake. Thursday and Friday are holidays in Taiwan. There were no scheduled shipments on these two days.

Our operations team is working very hard to clean up and get our facility ready for shipping by early next week. We will keep you updated.

In regard to our Subcontractors (Fabs, Assembly and Test), we are still in the process of gathering their current status. We will keep you updated as we learn more information.

Please contact your local sales team if you have any additional comments or questions.
